

How to use this Resource

Welcome, Teacher! This Resource is yours to develop work on the play you saw with your class, Jackie's Day, presented by Graffiti Theatre Company. It is available to you both in hard copy and (the full version) online.

We hope that you and your class will enjoy the activities and benefit from the lessons outlined for you.

You have a hard copy of Unit One of the Resource Book, 'Responding to the Play', so that you can begin work immediately.

Then, the other Units, which investigate the different stories you saw during the play, are available on the internet. This enables you to link the Resource Book easily with your Interactive White Board, and there are internet links throughout all the units.

In the case of YouTube links, we have provided alternative links where possible for schools which limit access to YouTube.

At the start of each Lesson Plan, you will find Curriculum Links which show you the subject areas, strands and strand units involved in each lesson, as well as the Learning Objectives. We hope this will assist you in your curriculum planning.

Of course, you know your own class and their needs, so we hope that these activities will be a springboard for your own adaptations and developments. Best of luck!

Layout:

- Unit One: Responding to the Play (hard copy and online)
- Unit Two: Sick Day (online)
- Unit Three: New Friend Day (online)
- Unit Four: Bad Baby Day (online)